- Moved from a may-issue state upon the Supreme Court’s ruling on the New York State Rifle and Pistol Association (NYSRPA) v. Bruen on June 23rd, 2022

Concealed Carry vs. Open Carry

- The open carrying of firearms is governed in California by a set of laws which at times conflict with one another.
- Openly carrying loaded or unloaded firearms in public is generally prohibited in California.
- However, the sheriff of any county with a population less than 200,000 people or the chief of police of a city within that county may issue licenses to carry a loaded, exposed handgun.
 - Those licenses are only valid in the county where they are issued.

License Restrictions

- A California CCWL may include any reasonable restrictions or conditions which the issuing authority deems warranted, including restrictions as to the time, place, manner and circumstances under which the person may carry a firearm.
 - Any such restrictions must be indicated on the license itself.
- Many locations in the state of California BAN the carrying of firearms under state or federal law, even if you possess a concealed carry license. We'll review those one at a time.
- California will ONLY issue carry permits to residents, individuals who work in the state and active-duty military members permanently stationed in California.
- California does NOT honor any other states' concealed carry permits.

Training Requirements for New Applications

Penal Code sections 26150 and 26155 specify that new CCW applicants are now required to complete a training course approved by the local licensing authority, which must provide a minimum of 16 hours of instruction on:

- Firearm safety and handling
- Shooting technique
- Safe storage
- Legal methods to transport firearms and securing firearms in vehicles
- Laws governing where permit holders may carry firearms
- Laws regarding the permissible use of a firearm
- Laws regarding the permissible use of lethal force in self-defense
- Mental health and mental health resources not less than one hour

Training Requirements for New Applications

- This course must be taught and supervised by firearms instructors certified by the Department of Justice pursuant to Section 31635.
- Students must pass a written examination to demonstrate their understanding of the topics covered.
- The course must include a live-fire shooting exercise on a firing range and shall include the applicant demonstrating the safe handling of, and shooting proficiency with, each firearm that the applicant is applying to be licensed to carry.
- The licensing authority shall establish and make available their live-fire shooting standards.
- Alternatively, the licensing authority may require a community college course certified by the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training – up to a maximum of 24 hours – but only if required uniformly of all license applicants without exception.

Shooting Qualification

The USCCA uses the following course of fire:

- Fifty rounds total, untimed, with distance and round counts as follows:
 - 4 yards: 15 rounds
 - 7 yards: 15 rounds
 - 10 yards: 10 rounds
 - 15 yards: 10 rounds
- Must score 70 percent, which is at least 35 hits inside the center circle (7-inch diameter) on the USCCA Silhouette Target.

Instructors and ranges must comply with the requirements set out by their states and counties. Make sure that you know and follow the live-fire requirements in your area.

Fees, Duration and Processing Time

- California CCWL fees will vary, check with your issuing authority.
- The CCWL is valid for two years.
- The issuing authority has 90 days to issue or deny the license.

90 Days to Issue or Deny

- The licensing authority must also give written notice to the applicant indicating that the application has been approved or denied. This notice must be given within 90 days of receiving the completed application for a new license or a license renewal.
- If the license is denied, the notice must state the reason as to why the determination was made and inform the applicant that they may request a hearing from a court, as outlined in Section 26206.
- A licensing authority providing notice under this paragraph informing the applicant that the request for a license has been denied satisfies the requirement to provide notice of a denial of a license pursuant to Section 26205.

Requirements for Renewing your License

For license renewal applicants, the course of training may be any course acceptable to the licensing authority, shall be no less than eight hours in length and must include:

- Firearm safety and handling
- Shooting technique
- Safe storage
- Legal methods to transport firearms and securing firearms in vehicles
- Laws governing where permit holders may carry firearms
- Laws regarding the permissible use of a firearm
- Laws regarding the permissible use of lethal force in self-defense
- Mental health and mental health resources not less than one hour.

Requirements for Renewing your License

- This course must be taught and supervised by firearms instructors certified by the Department of Justice pursuant to Section 31635.
- Students must pass a written examination to demonstrate their understanding of the topics covered.
- The course must include a live-fire shooting exercise on a firing range and shall include the applicant demonstrating the safe handling of, and shooting proficiency with, each firearm that the applicant is applying to be licensed to carry.
- The city or county issuing the license may require additional psychological testing of a renewal applicant only if there is compelling evidence to indicate that a test is necessary.
- The city or county may not require the applicant to provide additional information other than that necessary to complete the original application or to clarify information provided in the original application.

Name, Firearm or Address Changes

- CCWL licenses may be amended:
 - To add or delete a particular firearm (some counties limit how many firearms can be listed per CCWL)
 - For a change to any restrictions or conditions on the license, including restrictions as to the time, place, manner and circumstances under which the person may carry a firearm capable of being concealed upon the person
 - License holders must notify the licensing authority in writing within 10 days of any change in the license holder's place of residence.
 - A license will expire 90 days after the license holder moves from the county where the license was originally issued if the license holder's place of residence was the basis for issuance of the license.
- Within 10 days of receiving that notice, the licensing authority shall notify the Department of Justice of the change in a licensee's place of residence.

A Licensee Cannot

When carrying a firearm, the licensee shall not:

- Consume an alcoholic beverage or controlled substance as described in Sections 11053 to 11058, inclusive, of the Health and Safety Code.

Carrying on Your Own Property

- A U.S. citizen or legal resident at least 18 years old may carry a handgun anywhere within his or her place of residence, place of business or on private property owned or lawfully possessed by the citizen or legal resident. A permit or license is not required for a person to carry within these locations.

Firearms Sales

- Although there is no comprehensive system of firearms registration in California, the California Department of Justice (DOJ) retains information about the purchaser and seller of all in-state firearms sales and transfers and requires that any firearms imported into the state be reported to the DOJ.
- All firearms sales must be completed through a dealer. A permit to purchase, a background check and transaction report to the DOJ are required to buy a handgun. As of January 1, 2019, no person may sell, supply, deliver, or give possession or control of a handgun to any person under the age of 21 years.

Purchasing a Handgun in California

- There is a limitation for purchasing no more than one handgun in any 30-day period, although there are exemptions, including one for private party transfers.
- Not every firearm available in the United States is legal to purchase in California.
- If you are buying a firearm directly from a gun shop, all firearms in the shop should be approved.
- To see a complete list of approved firearms in the state, consult the Department of Justice's approved firearms list.

Process for Purchasing a Handgun in California

All firearms purchases, including private transaction, must be conducted through a federally licensed firearms dealer (FFL). The following information is specific to handgun purchases:

- You will need to provide your California driver's license, state-issued photo ID or a military identification accompanied by permanent duty station orders indicating a posting in California to the FFL.
- Dealers must obtain the purchaser's name, date of birth, and driver's license or identification number electronically from the magnetic strip on the license or ID card.
- Handgun purchasers must also present documentation indicating California residency (a utility bill from within the last three months, a residential lease, etc.).

Process for Purchasing a Handgun in California

- Prior to the submission of Dealer Record of Sale (DROS) information for a firearm, the purchaser must present a Firearm Safety Certificate (FSC) or provide the dealer with proof of exemption (Carry Concealed Weapon Permit, active duty or honorably retired military, law enforcement) pursuant to California Penal Code section 31700.
- The FSC is a true/false and multiple-choice test that is administered by instructors certified by the Department of Justice who are generally located at firearms dealerships.
 - There is a $25 fee to take the test.
 - You must score at least 75 percent to pass the 30-question test.
- The California Department of Justice website offers both a study guide and a video to help you prepare for the FSC written test. After passing the test, you will be given an FSC that will be valid for five years.

Process for Purchasing a Handgun in California

- Purchasers must complete both an ATF Form 4473 and a DROS Form.
- You will either be approved or, if you are found to be prohibited from possessing firearms, the dealer must make available a DOJ Prohibited Notice and Transfer Form, stating that you are prohibited from owning or possessing a firearm and the reason for the prohibition from the DOJ.
- The total state fee is $25, consisting of a DROS fee of $31.19 that covers the costs of the background checks and transfer registry, a $1.00 Firearms Safety Act Fee, and a $5.00 Safety and Enforcement Fee.
- In the event of a private party transfer, the firearms dealer may charge an additional fee of up to $10 per firearm.

Process for Purchasing a Handgun in California

- There is a mandatory 10-day waiting period after submitting your DROS Form before you are allowed to pick up your firearm.
- However, that may be extended up to 30 days if the DOJ is unable to determine whether you are a person who is prohibited from possessing a firearm.
- At the time the purchaser picks up his or her handgun, he or she must successfully complete a safety demonstration with it.
- Your firearm must also have a DOJ-approved firearms safety device, such as a trigger lock or safe, before you are able to pick it up.
- If you are purchasing a firearm from a dealer, this will likely be included in the sale. But if you are purchasing through a private transaction, you will need to supply your own.
- If you do not pick up your firearm within 30 days of submitting your DROS Form, the sale will be canceled, and you must restart the process.

Process for Purchasing a Handgun in California

- You may also request a voluntary determination to find out if you are eligible to purchase a firearm in California.
- This requires you to complete the Personal Firearms Eligibility Check (PFEC) Form.
 - Must be filed with the California Department of Justice, accompanied by a copy of your California driver's license or state-issued photo ID and a $20 fee payable by check or money order to the Department of Justice.
 - Must be signed and notarized by a notary public.
 - Once you have filed your PFEC, you will be notified by mail within 60 days if you are eligible or ineligible to purchase a firearm in the state.
- For additional questions on purchasing a firearm in California, please reach out to the State of California Office of the Attorney General - Bureau of Firearms directly, or consult the FAQ page available on the California DOJ website.

Purchasing Ammunition in California

- You must be legally eligible to purchase and/or own a firearm and be at least 21 years old to purchase ammunition.
- Ammunition may not be purchased out of state and then brought into California.
 - Doing so would be a misdemeanor.
- As of July 1, 2019, ammunition sellers are required to conduct point of sale background checks (which should take only 60-90 seconds) with $1 paid by the consumer. (Phase 2 of Prop 63).

Purchasing Ammunition in California

- For those who don't currently have a gun registered, there is a one-time $19 "eligibility check" that may take up to 10 days.
- The law requires all ammunition sales, including mail order sales and sales between unlicensed parties, to be processed by a licensed ammunition vendor who will conduct the background check.

Purchasing Ammunition in California

- Only California residents can purchase ammunition.
- There is no restriction on the amount or type of ammunition that can be purchased.
 - There are restrictions on how much a person can sell in a 30-day period without being a licensed vendor.
 - State law authorizes people to sell or share ammunition with their spouses, domestic partners, parents, grandparents, children and grandchildren without the participation of a licensed vendor.

Purchasing Ammunition in California

- Municipalities may also have restrictions.
 - For instance, Winchester Black Talon, Federal Premium "Law Enforcement Ammunition Tactical" and Hornady "TAP (Tactical Application Police) Law Enforcement Ammunition" are prohibited in San Francisco county.

Is There a Magazine Size Limitation in California?

Yes. No more than 10 rounds.

- In California, it has been illegal since 2000 to manufacture, import, keep, give, lend, receive or offer for sale “large-capacity magazines,” defined as those that can hold more than 10 rounds of ammunition.
- As of late December, 2021, the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals granted a 150-day stay in the case of Duncan v. Bonta, blocking the state of California from enforcing its firearm magazine prohibition law. If the backers in the lawsuit file a petition with the U.S. Supreme Court on the matter during that 150-day period, the stay will continue until the case's final disposition with the nation's highest court.

Magazine Size Limitations, Continued

- On August 14, 2020, a three-judge panel of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the district court decision in Duncan v. Becerra.
- The appellate ruling does not lift the stay that California Attorney General Xavier Becerra secured at the commencement of the appeal. The stay remains in place until the appellate process is final.
- This allows California's nearly 20-year-old prohibition on the acquisition of new large-capacity ammunition magazines to remain in effect pending further appellate proceedings.

A magazine storing this number of rounds (10) is legal in CA.

A magazine capable of storing this number of rounds is illegal. (Anything over 10 is illegal.)

Red Flag Law

- California has a red flag law.
- An immediate family member of a person, a law enforcement officer, and as of September 1, 2020, coworkers and school administrators may file a petition that includes the seizure of both firearms and ammunition.
- The subject of the petition are banned from having in their custody or control, owning, purchasing, possessing, or receiving a firearm or ammunition for anywhere from one to five years.
- The subject is able to submit one written request per year for a hearing to terminate the restraining order.

Guns and Children-Firearm Owner Responsibilities

- You may be guilty of a misdemeanor or a felony if you keep a loaded firearm within any premises that are under your custody or control and a child under 18 years of age obtains and uses it, resulting in injury or death, or carries it to a public place.
- You will be clear of charges if you stored the firearm in a locked container or locked the firearm with a locking device to temporarily keep it from functioning.

You Cannot Be Too Careful with Children and Guns

- There is no such thing as being too careful with children and guns.
 - Never assume that simply because a toddler may lack finger strength, they can't pull the trigger.
 - A child's thumb has twice the strength of the other fingers.
 - When a toddler's thumb "pushes" against a trigger, invariably the barrel of the gun is pointing directly at the child's face.
 - NEVER leave a firearm lying around the house.

You Cannot Be Too Careful with Children and Guns

- Child safety precautions still apply even if you have no children or if your children have grown to adulthood and left home.
 - A nephew, niece, neighbor's child or a grandchild may come to visit.
 - Practice gun safety at all times.
- To prevent injury or death caused by improper storage of guns in a home where children are likely to be present, you should store all guns:
 - Unloaded and locked with a firearms safety device
 - Stored in a locked container.
 - Ammunition should be stored in a location separate from the gun.

Talking to Children About Guns

- Children are naturally curious about things they don't know about or think are "forbidden."
 - When a child asks questions or begins to act out "gun play," you may want to address his or her curiosity by answering the questions as honestly and openly as possible.
 - This will remove the mystery and reduce the natural curiosity.

Talking to Children About Guns

- Children are naturally curious about things they don't know about or think are "forbidden."
 - Also, it is important to remember to talk to children in a manner they can relate to and understand.
 - This is very important, especially when teaching children about the difference between "real" and "make-believe."
 - Let children know that, even though they may look the same, real guns are very different than toy guns.
 - A real gun will hurt or kill someone who is shot.

- The American Academy of Pediatrics reports that adolescence is a highly vulnerable stage in life for teenagers struggling to develop traits of identity, independence and autonomy.
 - Children, of course, are both naturally curious and innocently unaware of many dangers around them.
 - Thus, adolescents as well as children may not be sufficiently safeguarded by cautionary words, however frequent.
 - Contrary actions can completely undermine good advice.
 - A "Do as I say and not as I do" approach to gun safety is both irresponsible and dangerous.

Rules for Kids

- Adults should be aware that a child could discover a gun when a parent or another adult is not present. This could happen in the child's own home; the home of a neighbor, friend or relative; or in a public place such as a school or park. If this should happen, a child should know the following rules and be taught to practice them.
 - Stop
 - The first rule for a child to follow if he/she finds or sees a gun is to stop what he/she is doing.
 - Don't touch
 - The second rule is for a child not to touch a gun he/she finds or sees.
 - A child may think the best thing to do if he/she finds a gun is to pick it up and take it to an adult.
 - A child needs to know he/she should NEVER touch a gun he/she may find or see.

 - Please note that, while there is no better advice at this time for children or adolescents who encounter a gun by happenstance, the California Chapter of the American College of Emergency Physicians reports that such warnings alone may be insufficient accident prevention measures with children and adolescents.

Methods of Childproofing Your Firearm

- As a responsible handgun owner, you must recognize the need and be aware of the methods of childproofing your handgun, whether or not you have children.
- Whenever children could be around, whether your own, or a friend's, relative's or neighbor's, additional safety steps should be taken when storing firearms and ammunition in your home.
- Always store your firearm unloaded.
- Use a firearms safety device AND store the firearm in a locked container.
- Store the ammunition separately in a locked container.

California Attorney General's Firearm Safety

Methods of Childproofing Your Firearm

- Always storing your firearm securely is the best method of childproofing your firearm; however, your choice of a storage place can add another element of safety. Carefully choose the storage place in your home especially if children may be around.
- Do not store your firearm where it is visible.
- Do not store your firearm in a bedside table, under your mattress or pillow, or on a closet shelf.
- Do not store your firearm among your valuables (such as jewelry or cameras) unless it is locked in a secure container.
- Consider storing firearms not possessed for self-defense in a safe and secure manner away from the home.

Safety and Storage Devices

- If you decide to keep a firearm in your home you must consider the issue of how to store the firearm in a safe and secure manner.
 - California recognizes the importance of safe storage by requiring that all firearms sold in California be accompanied by a DOJ-approved firearms safety device or proof that the purchaser owns a gun safe that meets regulatory standards established by the Department.

Safety and Storage Devices

- There are a variety of safety and storage devices currently available to the public in a wide range of prices.
 - Some devices are locking mechanisms designed to keep the firearm from being loaded or fired, but don't prevent the firearm from being handled or stolen.
 - There are also locking storage containers that hold the firearm out of sight.
 - For maximum safety you should use both a firearm safety device and a locking storage container to store your unloaded firearm.

California Attorney General's Firearm Safety

Safety and Storage Devices

Two of the most common locking mechanisms are trigger locks and cable locks.

- Trigger locks are typically two-piece devices that fit around the trigger and trigger guard to prevent access to the trigger.
 - One side has a post that fits into a hole in the other side.
 - They are locked by a key or combination locking mechanism.
- Cable locks typically work by looping a strong steel cable through the action of the firearm to block the firearm's operation and prevent accidental firing.
- However, neither trigger locks nor cable locks are designed to prevent access to the firearm.

California Attorney General's Firearm Safety

Safety and Storage Devices

- Smaller lock boxes and larger gun safes are two of the most common types of locking storage containers.
 - One advantage of lock boxes and gun safes is that they are designed to completely prevent unintended handling and removal of a firearm.
 - Lock boxes are generally constructed of sturdy, high-grade metal opened by either a key or combination lock.
 - Gun safes are quite heavy, usually weighing at least 50 pounds.
 - While gun safes are typically the most expensive firearm storage devices, they are generally more reliable and secure.
- Remember: Safety and storage devices are only as secure as the precautions you take to protect the key or combination to the lock.

Permissible Use of Lethal Force in Self-Defense

- The use of lethal force in self-defense, and the defense of others, is governed by statutory law, case law, and the jury instructions that are based on these authorities.
 - Except where otherwise indicated, this section is based on the instructions generally given to the jury in a criminal case where self-defense is claimed and illustrates the general rules regarding the use of lethal force in self-defense.
- “The ‘ultimate question’ for the jury is whether a reasonable person in defendant’s situation ‘would believe in the need to kill to prevent imminent harm.’” (People v. Horn (2021) 63 Cal.App.5th 672, 685-686, quoting People v. Humphrey (1996) 13 Cal.4th 1073, 1087.)

- As stated previously, a person may only use the amount of force that a reasonable person in the same or similar circumstances would believe necessary to prevent the imminent danger of death, great bodily injury, or being the victim of a forcible and atrocious crime.

 - c) the person using lethal force reasonably believed the use of such force was necessary to defend against the danger; and
 - d) the person using lethal force used no more force than was reasonably necessary to defend against that danger. The danger must be imminent and cannot merely be a belief in future harm. As stated previously, murder, mayhem, rape, and certain instances of robbery are examples of forcible and atrocious felonies.

Frequently Asked Questions

From the Office of the California Attorney General

Where do I find laws regarding the possession of firearms?

- The laws governing control of deadly weapons, including firearms, are found in Part 6 of the Penal Code, beginning at section 16000. These laws define the various types of dangerous weapons as well as restrictions and crimes related to their manufacture, sale, possession and transportation.

Of particular note, the laws relating to firearms are found in Title 4 of Part 6, beginning at section 23500, and the applicable definitions and general rules are found in Title 1 of Part 6, beginning at section 16000. Laws that pertain to both firearms and other types of deadly weapons are found in Title 2 of Part 6, beginning at section 17500.

I'm not sure whether I have a California record that would prevent me from owning/possessing a firearm. Is there a way to find out before I attempt to purchase one?

- Yes. You may request a California Personal Firearms Eligibility Check (PFEC) by submitting a (PFEC) application to the Department of Justice. For more information about how to request a PFEC, please refer to the PFEC FAQ. Applications are also available through your local firearms dealer. Please be advised that a PFEC does not include a Federal NICS check. Therefore, you may still be prohibited from owning or possessing a firearm even though you receive a PFEC response indicating you are eligible to own or possess firearms.

(Pen. Code, § 30105)

Can I give a firearm to my adult child? Can he/she give it back to me later?

- Yes, as long as the adult child receiving the firearm is not in a prohibited category and the firearm is legal to possess (e.g., not an assault weapon). The transfer of a firearm between a parent and child or a grandparent and grandchild is exempt from the dealer transfer requirement. The exemption does not apply to step-children/step-parents, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles or cousins.
- If the firearm is a handgun, the recipient must obtain a Handgun Safety Certificate prior to taking possession and must also submit a Report of Operation of Law or Intra-Familial Handgun Transaction and the $19 fee to the DOJ within 30 days after taking possession.
- The same rules apply to the return of the firearm at a later date.

(Pen. Code, §§ 27870-27875, 30910-30915.)

Can I give a firearm to my spouse or registered domestic partner? Can he/she give it back to me later?

- Yes, as long as the person receiving the firearm is not in a prohibited category and the firearm is legal to possess (e.g., not an assault weapon), the transfer of a firearm between a husband and wife or registered domestic partners is exempt from the requirement to use a licensed dealer to perform the transfer.
- If the firearm is a handgun, the recipient must obtain a Handgun Safety Certificate prior to taking possession and must also submit a Report of Operation of Law or Intra-Familial Handgun Transaction and the $19 fee to the DOJ within 30 days after taking possession.
- The same rules apply to the return of the firearm at a later date.

(Pen. Code, §§ 16990, subd. (g), 27915, 27920, subd. (b).)

Is there a limit on the number of handguns that I can own or purchase?

- There is no limit to the number of handguns that you may own but you are generally limited to purchasing no more than one handgun in any 30-day period. Handgun transactions related to law enforcement, private party transfers, returns to owners and certain other specific circumstances are exempt from the one-handgun-per-30-day purchase limit.

(Pen. Code, § 27535.)

Does California have a law regarding the storage of firearms?

- Yes. If you keep any loaded firearm within any premise which is under your custody or control and know or reasonably should know that a child (person under 18 years of age) is likely to gain access to the firearm, you may be guilty of a felony if a child gains access to that firearm and thereby causes death or injury to any person including themselves. That is unless the firearm was in a secure locked container or locked with a locking device that rendered it inoperable.

(Pen. Code, §§ 25100, 25200.)

How much is the state fee when purchasing a firearm?

- The total state fee is $37.19. The DROS fee is $31.19, which covers the costs of the background checks and transfer registry. There is also a $1.00 Firearms Safety Act Fee and a $5.00 Safety and Enforcement Fee. In the event of a private party transfer (PPT), the firearms dealer may charge an additional fee of up to $10.00 per firearm.
- If the transaction is not a PPT, the dealer may impose other charges as long as this amount is not misrepresented as a state fee. When settling on the purchase price of a firearm, you should ask the dealer to disclose all applicable fees.

(Pen. Code, §§ 23690, 28055, 28230, 28300, 28233.)

Can I sell a gun directly to another person (i.e. non-dealer)?

- Generally, no. This type of transaction is referred to as a “private party transfer” (PPT) and must be conducted with both parties, in person, through a fully licensed California firearms dealer. Failure to do so is a violation of California law. The purchaser (and seller if the purchaser is denied), must meet the normal firearms purchase and delivery requirements.
- Firearms dealers are required to process private party transfers upon request but may charge a fee not to exceed $10.00 per firearm for conducting the transfer. For example:
 - For private party transfers, the total allowable fees – including the DROS, safety and dealer transfer fees – are not to exceed $47.19 ($37.19 DROS fee and $10.00 PPT fee) and $10.00 for each subsequent firearm.

(Pen. Code, § 27545, 28055)

Can my driving record prevent me from purchasing a firearm?

- Yes. If you have a conviction for a firearms-prohibiting offense such as felony drunk driving, your driving record would affect your ability to purchase a firearm. Furthermore, your driver's license must be valid. A revocation, outstanding ticket or fine may cause your license to be invalid.

What is the Firearm Safety Certificate (FSC) requirement?

- Prior to the submission of DROS information for a firearm, the purchaser must present an FSC or provide the dealer with proof of exemption pursuant to California Penal Code section 31700.

(Pen. Code, §§ 26840, 31700.)

How do I get an FSC?

- To obtain an FSC, you must score at least 75% (23 correct answers out of 30 questions) on the FSC test covering firearms safety and basic firearms laws. The true/false and multiple-choice test is administered by instructors certified by the Department of Justice who are generally located at firearms dealerships.

(Pen. code, §§ 31610-31670.)

If I lose my FSC, can I get it replaced?

- Yes. A replacement FSC is available only through the DOJ Certified Instructor who issued your FSC. The FSC replacement cost is $5. The replacement FSC will reflect the same expiration date as your original FSC.

(Pen. code, § 31660.)

I am moving into California and I own several firearms. What are the new-resident registration requirements?

- You are considered a personal firearms importer as defined by California law. You may bring all of your California-legal firearms with you, but you must report them all to the California Department of Justice within 60 days utilizing the New Resident Firearm Ownership Report (BOF 4010A). You may not bring ammunition feeding devices with a capacity greater than 10 rounds, machine guns or assault weapons into California.

(Pen. code, §§ 17000, subd. (a), 27560.)

Can I get a list of the firearms for which I am listed as the purchaser, transferee or owner?

- Yes. To obtain a list of firearms listed in your name, complete and submit an Automated Firearms System Records Request to:
Automated Firearms Unit
P.O. Box 820200
Sacramento, CA 94203-0200.
- The request must be signed, notarized and include a photocopy of your photo ID card (i.e., driver's license or DMV ID).

I was arrested for a crime several years ago but no charges were filed against me. Can this affect my ability to purchase a firearm or to obtain a firearms license or permit?

- An arrest on your criminal history record without any disposition information explaining the outcome of the arrest may affect your ability to purchase a firearm or to obtain a firearms license or permit. If you are applying for a license or permit involving the possession of a firearm or dangerous weapon and the Department cannot determine the outcome of the arrest, you must first correct or complete the information in your criminal history record before the Department may issue you the license or permit. If you are trying to purchase a firearm and the Department cannot ascertain the outcome of the arrest and you do not correct or complete the information on your criminal history record, the decision whether to sell you the firearm rests with the firearms dealer.
